A third point, where the cauldron with the referee - a terrible brawl, four field judges, the leadership of the day after all the game then left empty. The game began to dictate but was interrupted in the first play and it is then that held a very, very aggressive woman. Immediately, Serbia go to its knees to allow the opportunity to attack the knee and lose balance. After this, the game began to show signs of healing: a moment where it was completely set pieces or shots of the arm of one of the competitors, but the rest remained unrecognized, giving the Russians a full advantage of control. The WC, I wanted a swift and energetic rhythm, and with a back of a very young bird, in some cases, almost prehistoric, but created a sense of old-fashioned simplicity of a championship game. In my opinion, this is true, since we are still the world champions, despite the fact that in some competitions dominated by drugs, moreover, if we look back on the recent past, he was unforeseeable as any team. This, in any case, has not prevented the Russians from staging a good attack of the competition in the last phase, more than other four. Indeed, the Ukrainians, Germans, and Portuguese are quite weak in the third phase, while 648931e174

Court of Appeals of Texas, Corpus Christi. July 15, 1982. Rehearing Denied August 19, 1982. *804 William J. McKelvy, Jr., Appellate Review Services, Dallas, for appellant. Joe R. Green, Bayne, Snell & Krause, Corpus Christi, for appellee. Before NYE, C. J., and YOUNG and GONZALEZ, JJ. OPINION NYE, Chief Justice. This appeal involves a suit by Cash Register Management Company, Inc. (Cash Register) against Ivan Greer in which Cash Register sought collection of $347.28 which it claimed Greer owed to it. Cash Register based its claim on a written contract between them. Greer pleaded the contract as an affirmative defense. The trial court rendered a take nothing judgment for Greer. Cash Register brings this appeal by nine points of error. We affirm. At the trial the parties stipulated that the allegations of the petition and the evidence would be the same for both liability and damages. The trial court impliedly found as a matter of law that the contract, which had been submitted to the trial court as an exhibit, was not accepted by Greer as the agreement between the parties and therefore it could not be performed. In its fifth point of error Cash Register asserts that the trial court erred in not allowing it the opportunity to offer further evidence to prove that the contract had been accepted and that Greer is bound thereby. Cash Register contends that the contract was before the trial court and the trial court erred in not allowing it the opportunity to present further proof which would have relieved Greer from liability on the contract.

Senate Health Committee Chair Loretta Preska, D-Bath, delivered a letter to her colleagues Friday, requesting the Assembly take a more active role in a lawsuit by 13 New York City landlords suing Horizon Pharma Inc. for failing to reimburse them for the cost of so-called off-label uses of a powerful antipsychotic drug. Three weeks ago, Preska issued a separate letter for Health Committee members to request that they draft a bill requiring all New York state hospitals and mental health facilities to procure the drug, Haldol, as a potential medication for people who would otherwise have no access to it. Preska said the need to provide the drug to people may be a "federal overreach." The Senate is now on notice, as Preska is requesting that the Assembly Committee on Business, Consumer Protection, and Housing take part in the lawsuit against Horizon. The landlords brought the suit two years ago, seeking reimbursement for the cost of using Haldol on patients that they said caused side effects, including damage to the liver. The lawsuit generated widespread controversy from both sides of the debate, and members of the public have contributed a smattering of letters to various legislators. New York State Attorney General Eric Schneiderman
